

FRONTLINE SUPERVISOR TRAINING PROGRAM

EMPOWER YOUR CREWS

COMMITTED TO HELPING YOUR FIELD CREWS IMPROVE THEIR PERFORMANCE.

The Frontline Supervisors are the individuals who have the greatest positive daily impact on the crew's safety, quality and productivity, however, in the construction industry, they tend to receive the least amount of training. Trestles' Frontline Supervisor Training Program ("FLS" Training Program) is designed to enhance the knowledge and skills of your construction field personnel which directly manage craft employees.

FRONTLINE SUPERVISOR TRAINING TESTIMONIALS

Danny Salinas, Supervisor

"I really felt like this class opened my eyes on areas that I know I need to improve on. Ken did a great job teaching. I really recommend that my fellow supervisors get the privilege to attend this class and have Ken open their eyes like he did mine. Thank you for such a great class."

Roy Duncan, Project Manager

"I believe the course content in the Trestles Frontline Supervisor Development class can help lay the foundation for any up and coming supervisor. This course has given me a new insight on how to grow and develop future supervisors and leaders as well as reflect on my own improvement."

Chad Miller, Project Manager

"A fun, relatable, informative course on how management should be implemented in all industries!"

Jeff Holzworth, Project Controls Manager

"Trestles frontline supervisor training is a program that I believe could help a company move in front of the pack, if implemented across their organization."

Mario Perez, Superintendent

"I highly recommend the frontline supervisor training. (The instructors) Sharing life experiences throughout the course helps keep you attentive while learning. Knowledge is power!"

Edward Caballero, Project Manager

"The majority of this course was already known in my environment but was a great refresher. Although I have had lean training in the past this has created a culmination of my previous training and will recommend the course to my group for further education for the new group of leaders. FLS – this will be very effective and enlightening."
