Intro to Surveying

Construction Staking & Site Layout

New from ABC!!

Course Description:

Students will be given an overview of the basics of surveying and conclude the class with a better understanding of what the surveyors do before coming to the site, what they do on site, the information they provide, and how to best use it.

Specific topics include the following:

- Basics of surveying
- Different types of surveys
- What is a property survey
- How is control on a project initially established
- What are offsets and why they are used
- How to transfer elevations to spot check
- Standards for marking stakes and what they mean
- How does the GC use layout data to verify work in place
- What information the GC should expect before the crew leaves the site
